He Declares Red Requests Are Perilous

Latest Terms Seem Aimed at Spectacle, Not Serious Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States would lose its shirt if it agreed to a summit conference at the terribly high price he said Russia demands for such a meeting.

At a news conference Dulles accused the Soviets of putting a five-point price tag on a summit meeting. He said flatly the price is too high although he assumes Russia is willing to negotiate it.

The latest note from Moscow has not advanced prospects for a summit conference, Dulles went on. He predicted a continued exchange of propaganda notes would make the outlook for a heads-of-government meeting much worse. The United States, Dulles said, is ready to negotiate through diplomatic channels and possibly a foreign ministers meeting and issues no ultimatum on its own requirements for a top level meeting.

The new Kremlin note was delivered yesterday. The immediate reaction of U.S. officials was that its terms would turn the proposed meeting into a spectacle instead of a decision-making meeting to ease international tensions.

Moscow showed no signs of backing down on its off-repeated demand that summit leaders meet without advance lower level negotiations on East-West problems.

A foreign ministers conference, empowered to discuss major problems, Moscow said, would only delay a summit conference or block it altogether.

The Soviet note proposed again the items, Moscow wants on the agenda, and rejected most of those the United States has proposed.

The Kremlin refusal to budge, officials said, dimmed prospects that President Eisenhower would sit down with Soviet Premier Bulganin and other world leaders this fall as had been generally anticipated.

Eisenhower has no intention of yielding on the need for solid diplomatic preparation, the authorities said.

In a speech before the Manchester, N.H., Council on World Affairs, Asst. Secretary of State Francis O. Wilcox noted that Soviet party boss Khrushchev "has persistently sought to identify himself with the world's quest for peace."

Dutch Jet Crashes After Aerial Salute

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP) — A Dutch air force jet returning from the aerial salute to Queen Elizabeth II of Britain crashed today. The pilot had nursed his crippled aircraft back to his base at Eindhoven but bailed out too late and was killed.

The flier had reported that he was having stick trouble and quit the formation of Thunderstreak fighters which had roared over Elizabeth as she and Prince Philip arrived in Amsterdam aboard the royal yacht Britannia.

Elizabeth and Juliana of the Netherlands, Europe's two reigning queens, exchanged kisses after the British monarch stepped ashore for a three-day state visit.

Kohler Workers' Homes Are Stoned

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP) — The homes of two more Kohler Co. workers were stoned early today, the Sheboygan County sheriff's office said.

Saturday night, vandals broke a picture window in the home of a company supervisor and tried to damage the home of an employee who testified before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee in Washington.

The sheriff's office said the latest incidents occurred around 1 a. m. at the homes of Claude Dault and his neighbor, Leo Behrens Jr., both employees of the plumbing ware firm where the United Auto Workers struck four years ago next week. No one was injured.

The homes are located in rural Sheboygan.

Almost 3 Billion Approved

Calls GOP Approach To National Health Projects Inadequate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today recommended $2,961,862,181 in new funds for the Labor and Welfare departments. It said more money will be needed soon because of current economic conditions and the outlook for the future.

The amount approved by the committee subject to House action later this week is $11,875,000 less than President Eisenhower requested in what the committee described as budget estimates "far from reality."

The committee criticized the budget bureau for not raising the requests prepared last fall and submitted by Eisenhower in January. It also called "inadequate" the administration's approach to national health problems and said the wage and hour division was not effectively ferreting out wage and hour law violations.

The committee's taken cut in new appropriations left the two big departments and several related activities with $215,504,600 less than they were given during the current year. Much of this cut undoubtedly will be restored.

For the fiscal year starting next July 1, the committee recommended these allotments:

Labor Department: $382,446,800, a cut of $25,585,800 from the amount requested.

Department of Health, Education and Welfare: $2,565,080,581, an increase of $14,356,000, mostly for the National Institutes of Health.

National Labor Relations Board: $1,295,000, the amount requested.

Mediation and Conciliation Service: $3,650,000, a cut of $45,000.

Heads of both the Labor and Welfare departments, the committee added, have indicated they soon will need more money than requested but "why both departments refuse to present up-to-date estimates at this time is difficult to understand."

Farm Group President Urges Support Freeze

COLUMBIA (AP) — F. V. Heinkel, president of the Missouri Farmers Assn., today telegraphed President Eisenhower, urging the President to sign an emergency farm bill now before him which would freeze farm price supports and acreage allotments for a year.

Heinkel said many farmers will be forced from their farms if reductions in price supports announced by the secretary of agriculture are permitted to take effect, Heinkel said.

Republican Leaders Say Ike Will Ask Buying Speed-Up

HYPERSONIC ROCKET GLIDER—This artist's concept shows a proposed globe-girdling hypersonic rocket glider capable of out-distancing intercontinental ballistic missiles. The glider rocket, to be launched via sled platform (rocket-powered) and its own liquid-fuel rockets, is expected to attain a speed of from 15,000 to 20,000 miles per hour at an altitude of about 200,000 ft. At this point the glider would enter a ballistic course of descent, guided by small jet rocket blasts.

Special Message on That May Go to Capitol Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican congressional leaders reported today President Eisenhower will ask Congress to authorize a 600 million dollar speed-up in government buying to help combat the recession.

The leaders also said after their regular meeting with the President that he is about ready to send Congress his request for a 50 per cent extension in the duration of unemployment insurance benefits.

A special message on that program may go to the Capitol later today or tomorrow.

At the White House conference there also was discussion of a $5,400,000,000 highway construction bill now up for Senate debate.

The GOP leaders noted that the highway measure is not in the form the administration requested. But Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, predicted Congress will approve some form of highway legislation to help deal with the business slump.

Knowland said legislation to speed up government purchasing in all fields, including defense, will go to Congress in the next day or so.

The new White House plans were reported as it became known that Secretary of the Treasury Anderson has indicated to leading members of Congress that opposition to a tax cut is increasing within administration councils.

Anderson is reported to have told influential Democrats and Republicans Vice President did not speak for the administration when he said last week it would be "good Republican philosophy" to reduce taxes if the business recession continues.

Nixon conceded at the time no final decision is likely to be made by President Eisenhower until all the economic figures for March are available, sometime around mid-April. But he said if those figures are disappointing, he believes a tax reduction offers the best chance of promoting a quick upturn.

However, Anderson was quoted as telling members of Congress in private conferences he believes a tax reduction would not be nearly as effective as Nixon predicts.

Anderson was represented as believing a stepup in public works and military spending already is beginning to show some results.

Anderson's optimism apparently is based on indications that individual income tax receipts are holding up better than had been expected with more than five million persons unemployed.

Treasury experts give some of the credit to this overtime work ordered on military projects by Secretary of Defense McElroy at about the time the Senate Preparedness subcommittee began its investigation of the defense setup last fall.

Democratic congressional leaders have been operating under an informal agreement with Anderson that neither party will spring a surprise "quickie" tax cut proposal on the other.

While no tax action is likely before an April 3 Easter recess, Democratic congressional leaders may be hard put to restrain their members after the holiday break if the folks at home want a tax cut as much as many of their representatives and senators now believe.

Demos Hold Rally Meeting Monday Night

Mayor Bagby Talks On Many Problems Of Street Program

First of the Democratic rally meetings of the city campaign was held at Mark Twain school Monday night.

Committeeman S. J. Timbories opened the meeting. City Chairman John McCloskey presided and introduced the Democratic candidates who gave short talks.

Speakers were Mayor Julian H. Bagby and Henry A. Salveter. Salveter reviewed many progressive features of the Democratic administration during the past four years as outlined in "The Sedalia Story."

"Seldom do you find a city the size of Sedalia with the operating cost of its extensive park system and recreational facilities paid for entirely within the regular property tax levy," Salveter stated.

"In spite of the fact that our city tax rate has remained the same for ten years, your present Democratic administration has been able to provide the Park Board with nearly $125,000 during the past four years. This is almost two-thirds more money than was spent during the previous four years."

"Our parks cover more area, and offer much more in recreational facilities for all of our city than ever before," Salveter continued. "All this has been done with the wise stewardship of the city administration and the Park Board."

"The six parks within the city limits offer many types of recreational facilities for our residents. Each park has been carefully improved to provide for the type of activity best suited for that area. The needs of every age group have been planned for Salveter continued. "And, all of this has been provided within the sound, pay-as-you-go financial policy of this administration."

In addition to Mayor Bagby and Salveter, all of the candidates (Please turn to page 4 column 3)

Car Is Wrecked On Highway 65 Monday Evening

A 1955 Chevrolet tudor sedan was demolished on North Highway 65 eight miles north of Sedalia near the Claycomb farm, about 11 p.m. Monday. The driver and owner of the vehicle, Kenneth Lange, 1500 South Ohio, escaped serious injury.

Lange told Trooper Robery Stockell he had driven out to the Marshall Junction and was on his way back when he apparently went to sleep as he came around a curve.

The car went along the left side of the highway for some distance, crossed back across the highway, leaving the pavement and traveled more than 100 feet off the shoulder. It crashed into corner posts of a fence, ripped out a wooden gate, broke off the posts, and rolled over on its top.

The top was mashed down, the left front wheel which hit one post was damaged and the tire was blown out. The right fender was ripped off, the windshield knocked out and the body of the car was sprung. The hood on the vehicle was also smashed.

Lange said he apparently was thrown out of the car when it went into a roll. He received a scrape on the back of his head and a slight cut on the left ear. He said he didn't know how he got to town, but thought he had walked at least part of the way in.

Lange also said he was alone at the time of the accident. He was given a State Highway Patrol summons to appear before Judge Frank T. Armstrong, magistrate, for careless and imprudent driving.

The car was towed to Sedalia by the Parks Cities Service wrecker.

GOP Opens Final Week Of Campaign

Outlines Policies, Past Performances At Monday Meeting

Sedalia Republicans opened their final week of campaigning with a meeting at the courthouse Monday night.

Leo J. Harned, Sedalia attorney, presided over the business of the meeting, introducing Ralph Hamlin, the Republican candidate for chief of police, who presented his policies upon which he is making his campaign for election.

Hamlin stated that since the chief of police can neither hire nor fire members of the police department, there must be cooperation between both the chief, the City Council and the mayor. He stated that if elected his first action would be to screen the men now on the police force as to their ability, training and length of experience, and that political affiliations would not be the basic qualifications.

Hamlin also emphasized the training he had during World War II in apprehending law violators and in having available for the court all available evidence in the case. He said that this training is being used by police departments and is proving very successful. He will hold weekly workshops in order to keep his men abreast of latest techniques and so they will always understand their responsibility to carry out these duties, he said.

He stressed the need to handle out-of-town people over-parking in a manner which would create good will and more shopping in Sedalia. Hamlin closed by saying he would recommend the best he could have available in manpower for his department, and endeavor to create a hard-hitting yet courteous police force.

Maj. John M. Drenan, retired, candidate for police judge was next presented. He stated that God had granted to him the joy of a successful career and he felt that on account of his wide experience, good health, and maturity that it was a civic duty for him to make his services available to the city which has been his home for a number of years. He further pointed out that he had almost three years' experience as a summary court judge in the armed forces, "an office which deals with infractions of law and embraces duties practically identical as those of the office I am seeking". He further pointed out that performance of the duties in both civilian and armed services require experience and mature judgment in order to dispense justice strictly upon the merits of the evidence presented.

In closing, Drenan stated he first established his home in Sedalia in 1905.

Leroy Luchs, candidate for alderman from the second ward, was the next speaker. He stated that he felt, from the questions being asked and the complaints about conditions existing in every precinct in his ward, that his people

Hazel Palmer Announces for U. S. Senate

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Miss Hazel Palmer of Sedalia formally announced today she would run for the U. S. Senate on the Republican ticket in an effort to beat Missouri's Democratic junior senator, Stuart Symington, in the November general election.

Miss Palmer, now president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, said she would file for the race late this week after a hurry up trip to Washington.

She said the urge to run has been whetted in recent months but it really mushroomed Monday at a luncheon in Washington when a group of Missouri women pleaded with her to enter the contest.

A chic blonde, Miss Palmer will be 55 next August. She explained that she has never married because "Mr. Right has just never come along."

She is former Pettis County Republican chairman and served as collector of revenue for her home county from 1942 to 1955.

She was feted at a luncheon by members of the Missouri legislative minority party today before making her announcement.

She is the first Republican candidate to announce. Previously the GOP had been pictured as having a hard time finding anyone to challenge Symington, who rolled up a huge majority in his first bid for office, ousting a Republican senator.

Ten Killed In Braniff Airline Crash Shortly After Takeoff

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Braniff Airlines plane crashed moments after its takeoff for Panama early today with a mighty explosion visible for miles. Nine were killed and 15 survived, many of them badly injured.

The four-engine DC7C had been airborne less than a minute before watchers on the ground saw fire erupt from an engine.

A night watchman on duty at a city dump near the swampy scene of the crash saw the plane go down "like a rock." It fell 4 1/2 miles north of Miami International Airport.

The dead, dying and injured lay in the wreckage or in ankle-deep mud and water. Rescuers had to push their way through dense brush which kept firetrucks and ambulances away from the scene.

Helicopters were used to carry the injured to a hospital, where a parking lot was pressed into service as a landing port.

The big plane, which would have gone to Lima, Sao Paulo and Rio de Janeiro from Panama, broke cleanly in two. The engines and gas tanks landed about 50 yards from the rear section of the fuselage.

Flames still were roaring into the sky hours after the crash. Traffic was backed up for miles along roads leading to the area.

R. H. Sands, the dump watchman who summoned help but was prevented by the sawgrass and underbrush from forcing his way to the scene himself, said it was about 20 minutes before rescue crews arrived.

"These were the longest 20 minutes I ever spent," he said. "I could hear the passengers yelling for help and there was nothing I could do."

Ray Stolz, a Miami Springs policeman who was among the first to reach the wreckage, said victims could be seen "like bundles on the ground. I heard them yelling."

"The flames weren't as bad as they got later but it was something fierce — the heat."

"I carried one man out to the road and then I came back and called out for the survivors. They heard me and yelled, 'Please help us. We're hurt bad.'"

Pete Vigna, 67, Civil Aeronautics Administration official returning to his job in Colombia, suffered only a cut ear.

"The plane was running good until it hit about 1,500 feet," Vigna said. "All of a sudden, the engine next to the fuselage on the right sputtered fire."

"The next thing I knew, the world had fallen out beneath me. I found myself tumbling inside the plane, falling every which way."

LECKHAMPTSTEAD, England (AP) — Chris Williams, a member of the British Home Guard during World War II, has been unmasked by death as a woman.

Chris, 73, had played the male role since moving into the district 20 years ago to make a living doing odd jobs.

"This is fantastic news," said Mrs. Annie Giles, proprietor of the pub where Chris was one of the star dart players. "Everybody liked Chris. He was a grand old boy."

Authorities have been unable to trace any relatives. The reason for the masquerade is a mystery.

Demos Hold

spoke briefly on the various phases of the activities of the city.

Mayor Bagby's talk on the street program is reported in full:

"This evening I propose to discuss with you one of the most perplexing problems that confronts government at all levels. The Federal Government, the governments of the 48 states, and county and city administrations, all over America are faced with the task of taking a system of highways and streets designed for yesterday's traffic and, of bringing this system of roadways up to a standard that will be acceptable and adequate for the traffic of today and tomorrow.

The number of motor vehicles in the United States has increased from slightly over 30 million in 1946 to over 65 million in 1956. It is predicted that by 1959 the number of vehicle registrations will reach 100 million.

Every year our country's economy becomes more closely geared to motor transportation, and the American cities that profit from today's expanding economy will be those that provide free and easy circulation for this increased vehicular traffic. The problem of the municipality is compounded by the fact that 50 per cent of the vehicle miles travelled in this country is within the limits of corporate cities, while only 10 per cent of the total number of miles of streets and highways in America are located within cities.

The problem of creating a network of streets in Sedalia that will accommodate this greatly increased street usage is the first and paramount concern of your city administration.

Cinders and rock surfaced streets passed out of the picture with the Model "T". The bituminous seal coat is no longer adequate, and maintenance costs for this type of street is excessive. Modern streets serving modern needs require a properly designed base, a permanent type wearing surface, and they must be so constructed that maintenance costs will be held to the minimum. Any other approach to the street problem of the American city is shortsighted, unrealistic, inefficient, economically wasteful, and, in fact, just plain idiotic.

During the past four years, 218 blocks of hot-mix asphalt surfacing on permanent base has been laid in Sedalia, and during the same period, 135 blocks have been given concrete curb and gutter. This record compares favorably with any period in the history of Sedalia. Your present administration has pledged itself to continue this program, at an accelerated rate, and additional streets will be given this modern treatment just as fast as property owners will accept them.

The continuation and the overall success of this progressive program will require patience and understanding on the part of both the administration and the citizens. It is a program of long range planning, and its ultimate completion will require positive action and cooperative effort.

It is my personal goal that every home in Sedalia will be served by a hard surface, permanent type street. I will never be satisfied with less. If you and I, working together, are to realize this ambitious, but not impossible, goal, we must be orderly and organized in our efforts. We must have a plan and follow through. We must seek out and follow the advice and counsel of trained and competent traffic engineers, in order that we may do first things first, and in order that we may spend our money wisely. Such a plan, developed step by step, street by street and year by year, will eventually lead us to the realization of our goal. We have already made are tired of having their streets repaired with the campaign promises the present administration has been making in past and recent campaign publicity in the newspaper.

Iuchs said that people are fed up with only part of the story being told as to expenditures. He said that they are insulted by the implications made by the present city officials that the general public can't understand a detailed annual public statement of city expenditures. Iuchs declared that the great majority feel the money was squandered in hiring the St. Louis traffic engineering company when our local engineer hired by the city should have been capable of handling the job.

Iuchs pledged, if elected, to introduce an ordinance calling for a detailed annual published statement of city expenses.

Mrs. Fred G. Rose, candidate for city treasurer, was introduced and stated that she would be very conscientious in the fulfillment of the duties which come with the office.

Paul Hausani, candidate for alderman from the first ward, Harold Vogel, candidate for alderman from the third ward, Clyde Swafford, candidate for alderman from the fourth ward, and Mrs. L. E. Sheridan, candidate for assessor, were all introduced.

Aaron Haller, candidate for mayor, was introduced and spoke about "The Sedalia Story" which appeared in the Sunday Democrat-Capital. He pointed out that many of the things mentioned were accomplishments of the administration of a Republican mayor, Herb Studer, and that he (Haller) was a member of the truly bipartisan park board.

Haller enumerated some of the board's accomplishments as Liberty Park, modern and complete lighting system of parks, additional lighting of swimming pool, cooperated with the Little League in establishing ball diamond grandstand, had an engineering graph made of a ball diamond for proper drainage, replaced bad flooring, repaired the seats and painted the grandstand, paid for a new roof on Convention Hall, pointed all the brick exterior and painted all the exterior woodwork of Convention Hall, redecorated the interior of Convention Hall including a new lobby light and a shower, purchased 100 folding chairs for the hall, drained and cleaned the park lake, restocked the lake with fish, repaired the stone entrance to park, added fireplaces, picnic tables, benches, and playground equipment, hired a superintendent of parks, made contract for a train and kiddie rides.

Housel Park — Built shelter house, installed sanitary toilets and dressing rooms, repaired and repainted the grandstand, and added playground equipment. Hubbard Park — Established a graded ball diamond, built a shelter house, painted a swimming pool and set up a flagpole donated by the Mo Pac shops and employees.

Vermont Park — Purchased park area, cleared and seeded ground, built bridges and installed playground equipment.

Center Park — Built a shelter house, dressing room facilities and toilets, added a parking area and playground equipment.

Washington Park — Repaired and painted concession stand and cleared the tennis court. Additional improvements were delayed there due to the possibility the railroad might reclaim the land.

All this, Haller said, was done for the $77,000 this administration took credit for.

The meeting adjourned with a benediction by the Rev. George Ray.

Egghead May Become New American Space Age Hero

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Will the egghead become America's new national hero?

There are those who feel that the arrival of the space age has elevated the egghead to a new stature. They are hopeful that the victories of science, in test tube and rocket, will win a new respect for education and a decline in anti-intellectualism in the United States.

It is hard to go along with this optimism. It is certainly, at the moment, premature.

As a nation, we still pick our heroes and heroines on the basis of charm or brawn, not brainpower. We admire the obvious; we distrust the subtle.

We reward our national heroes with cash and glory, in most cases; not on the basis of how they have helped out advancement as a people—but how they have pleased our emotions individually. The real heroes of our passing generations are often relatively unknown by the general public in their time.

Everybody knows who is supposed to have jumped off Brooklyn Bridge—Steve Brodie! How many can name the designer and builder of Brooklyn Bridge, one of the loveliest structures ever conceived by the mind of man?

You can measure a culture by the heroes it produces. America has made tremendous strides culturally in almost every field in the 20th century. This great growth is recognized by intellectuals of other lands, but the Americans they would honor as heroes are little known or not known at all to millions of Americans.

We have created a great science, yet how few ordinary citizens can even name three living American scientists? How many can name two leading American architects? How many can name four living American poets, five world-famous living American novelists, three native-born opera singers, or even one top American composer?

Of our population of 173,000,000 only a handful can. Not, surely, more than one in five, probably not one in ten.

We are the most pill-taking people on earth, yet who among us can name, off-hand, half a dozen celebrated American doctors, alive or dead?

We are one of the most politically minded people on earth. Politics has always been one of our major sports. Yet how many of us can spontaneously name and identify a dozen U.S. senators and the states they come from? How many of us can even name the U.S. representative in Congress from our own district?

Who, then, are our heroes? Well, ask the average American to name five famous movie stars, five famous heavyweight boxing champions, five great baseball players, five outstanding television performers. He'll pass this quiz with a perfect score.

Then ask him to identify Elvis Presley, and name the present Chief Justice of the United States. The odds are he'll know all about Elvis, but have forgotten Earl Warren.

The fact is that the great majority know very little about the men who control and change their lives, but a great deal about those who entertain them.

No, there is very little prospect that the egghead will soon replace Babe Ruth as a national hero. We would rather, in the snobbery of our general ignorance, see the egghead fall flat on his face like Humpty Dumpty.

In our civilization the egghead, if he is ever to be a hero, is likely to be a post-mortem one. Most of us have a secret fear of a live intellectual and prefer to admire him after he is comfortably dead. Only then does he seem safe on a pedestal.

Circus Features New Indoor Look At 1958 Opening

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—The big circus doesn't smell any more. Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey, which opens here tomorrow in the first non-New York premiere in circus history, is as clean and sweet-smelling as your own home—well, almost.

The circus' new look of indoor performances, more girls and fewer animals, is responsible for its cleanliness and its change from the traditional opening in Madison Square Garden.

Instead of sawdust, the circus performs on green rubber padding which is hosed down after each performance.

Now that the circus travels with only 40 horses and 20 elephants, the huge circus trains are gone. Some of the single performers travel in leased railroad cars, but all families drive their own cars and pull house trailers.

It's a long drive from winter quarters in Sarasota, Fla., to New York. Too long, circus authorities decided, and Charlotte's big coliseum (10,000 seating capacity) is just about seating.

As performers garbed in jeans and bathing suits prepared for the big dress rehearsal last night, dozens of small children stood in the drizzle, peering through an open door at the wondrous goings-on.

In a small tent, the elephants munched their hay and waved hopeful, hungry trunks. The circus new look doesn't suit the elephants at all. No peanuts.

"Nobody can get in to feed them," said an elephant handler. "But in New York, they really get their peanuts. They are in the Garden basement with the side show and they get two or three bushels of peanuts a day."

Easter Seal Time

With the 1958 Easter Seal campaign ending on Easter Sunday, April 6, the next few days are important ones. Particularly are they important to the more than 227 children and adults in Missouri with physical deformities and speech disorders. The treatment of their crippled limbs and bodies is dependent upon the generous contributions raised during this annual appeal from the citizens of Missouri.

Easter Seals are a symbol of hope to the crippled child—a hope which makes his life worthwhile. Contributions received from Easter Seals can provide a fulfillment of his dreams—to hit a home run like Stan Musial, to sing and dance like the Mouseketeers, or maybe to live a normal independent life like the boy or girl next door.

The Easter Seal Society in Missouri sponsors seven speech therapy centers and five rehabilitation centers where doctors and therapists apply the newest techniques and latest knowledge to help strengthen damaged or weakened muscles so that legs can move and even walk, and arms and hands can take over the important tasks of feeding, dressing and self-care. Other therapists help to develop intelligible speech in children handicapped by cleft palate, cerebral palsy or other speech difficulties.

These direct services, similar to those carried on at Easter Seal rehabilitation centers throughout the nation, must have funds to continue to operate effectively and to treat the increasing number of physically handicapped children and adults in the state.

Those who contribute to the Easter Seal campaign should know that 70 per cent of the money stays in Pettis County and is used here. This will include $100 monthly to the Crippled Children's Center for services rendered to crippled children and $75 per month for transportation of needy children to Mercy Hospital and to the University of Missouri Hospital for needed medical care.

Easter Seals have now been mailed to Sedalians and Pettis countians with the hope there may be a generous response. Those who receive them are urged to put them to use on letters mailed.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Pensions For Ex-Presidents

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, D. C. — For the first time in many years, 76-year-old Speaker Sam Rayburn last week appeared as a witness before a congressional committee. He did it for an old friend, 73-year-old Harry S. Truman of Missouri.

Testifying with Sam in a rare display of non-partisanship was the 73-year-old Republican leader and ex-speaker, Joe Martin of Massachusetts.

Rayburn and Martin agreed that ex-presidents of the United States ought to get pensions, just like employees of corporations and members of Congress. They urged the House civil service committee, headed by testy Tom Murray of Tennessee, to approve the presidential pension bill of Democratic leader John McCormack.

McCormack's bill would give ex-presidents Herbert Hoover and Harry Truman a pension of $25,000 a year, plus free mailing privileges, plus office space in a federal building, and an allowance of about $70,000 to hire stenographers, which is the same as that paid a senator from one of the least populous states.

In addition, the widow of an ex-president would get a $10,000-a-year pension after his death.

"This is the first time in four or five years that I've appeared before a committee as a witness," Rayburn told the assembled Congressmen. He had already forced Chairman Murray, who was trying to block the pension bill, into calling a meeting. Murray finally called the meeting, but conveniently overlooked informing members of the committee that it was called. Despite this, all members showed up.

Hoover Doesn't Need It

Rep. Hugh Gross (R., Iowa) remained unconvinced.

"No man who's been President of the United States ought to have any trouble making a living," Gross insisted. "All this means is that some more money will come out of the U.S. Treasury."

Rayburn reminded Gross that all Truman owned upon retirement was his home, and that even FDR had no independent means until his mother died.

Rep. August Johansen (R., Mich.) agreed with Gross. So did Reps. Ed Robeson (D., Va.) and Jim Davis (D., Ga.).

"I suggest that we raise the amount of the pension to $37,500," said Robeson sarcastically.

Rayburn, however, argued strongly for the ex-presidents. He pointed out that the legislation had been passed by the Senate a year ago and had lain moldering in the House for two years.

"It's the dignity of the office of president that's involved here," said Mr. Sam. "Our big corporations all provide for their presidents and employees, and the U.S. government is the biggest corporation of all. We shouldn't force our ex-presidents to go out and do all kind of mean things in order to make a living. We have to protect the dignity of the office."

McCormack reminded Gross that Herbert Hoover would also be eligible, though actually he doesn't need it. Hoover is a millionaire. President Eisenhower made around $500,000 by a special tax ruling on his book.

"It's a matter of simple justice," said McCormack.

In the end the committee agreed to discuss the matter again on March 27. And in view of the urging by Rayburn and Martin, it looked as if the legislation would finally reach the House floor for a vote.

Soothing Music for GOP

Seven Army band musicians are burnt up over having to supply soft string music for three hours for a Republican reception at Fort McNair—despite Army rules to the contrary. Members of Congress can reserve the officers club at Fort McNair and Fort Myer and have music supplied by the Army band, but regulations forbid using this privilege for commercial or political purposes.

The Fort McNair gathering was a New Hampshire affair featuring the GOP senators and congressmen from that state; Mrs. Lane Dwinell, wife of the governor; and other ladies in Washington for the 6th annual conference of Republican women. Guest of honor was popular, potent Sen. Styles Bridges, dean of Senate Republicans, who, as a member of both the armed services and appropriations committees, has a lot of power at the Pentagon.

Bridges made a partisan speech in which he advised New Hampshire Republicans how to deal with critics of the Eisenhower recession.

"Tell them the only way the Democrats know to cure a recession is through war," he recommended.

Note—Congressman Charlie Porter, the Oregon Democrat, is writing Bridges, asking him to pay the seven musicians their usual rate of $3 an hour, or a total of $63, or else pay them the union rate for supplying music at a private political party.

Dutch Dilemma

While the Indonesian government tries to suppress rebellion in Sumatra and other islands beyond Java, its false claims to Dutch-held West New Guinea slip once more out of the public glare.

But the question still is very much alive in the Netherlands. Stunned by the economic crusher put upon their business interests in Indonesia, the Dutch seem to have lost stomach for overseas enterprise. They are talking as if they would be happy to get out of New Guinea.

Wisely and properly, however, they are not suggesting that their holdings be turned over to irresponsible Indonesia, whose claims have no foundation in race, culture, or other usual ties.

The Dutch are said to be torn between handing the area, populated by stone-age Papuans, to Australia, which governs East New Guinea, or to a United Nations trusteeship.

While the former solution might make the most practical sense, inevitably it would smack of a "Westerners' deal," since Australia is linked to Britain and the West in so many ways.

To be on the surest moral footing, to win the approval of responsible free peoples everywhere, the Dutch would appear best advised to place the future of West New Guinea in the U.N.'s care.

Foreign Language

Since the Soviet satellite launchings startled us, we've heard much groaning in this country about our lag in science education. If anything, however, we're even worse in the matter of foreign language training.

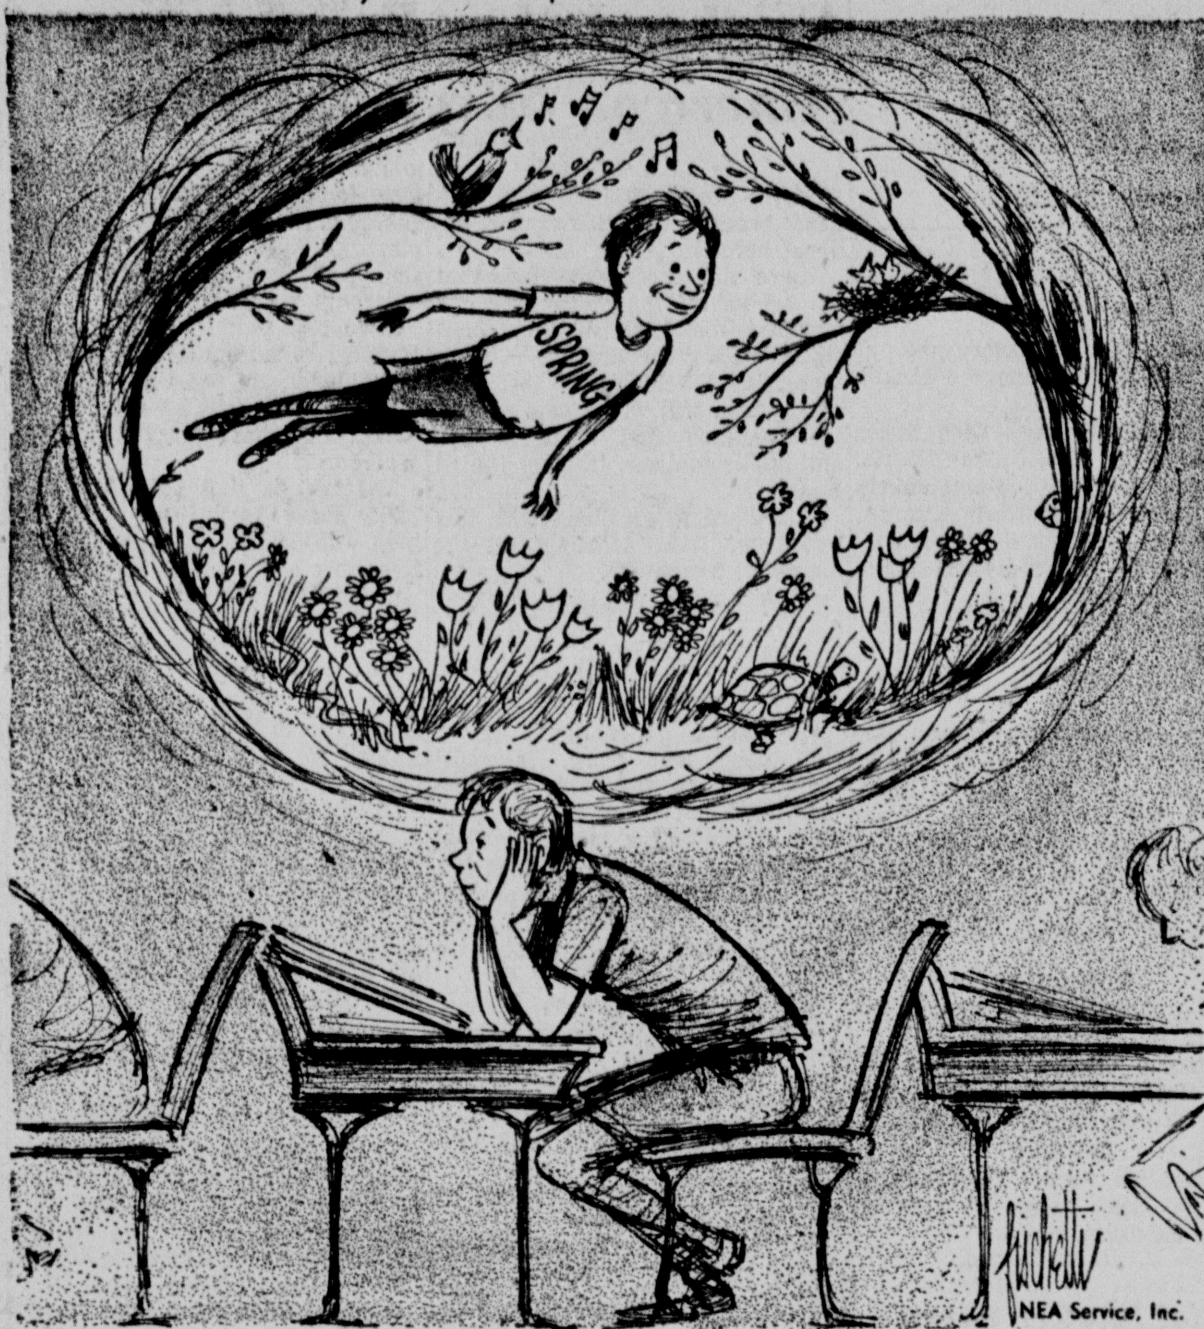

Half America's high schools offer no modern foreign languages at all. And only 15 per cent of all U.S. high school and college students study any language but their own.

A list of 36 countries scaled according to the number of years their public schools teach foreign languages finds the United States at rock bottom—No. 36. Most of the listed nations make such study compulsory.

In Russia all students in the basic 10-year schools must study six years of language. University students are directed, as an extra, to study a language native to Africa or Asia.

Our poor performance smacks of smugness. At a time when more Americans than ever are fanning out over the globe, it vastly limits the value of our contacts abroad. And it blocks us off from vital knowledge we need if we are to understand this world and play a greater role in it.

Perhaps Governments Talk Too Much

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ever get the feeling governments talk too much?

Ever since Soviet Premier Bulganin wrote President Eisenhower last December, proposing a summit meeting, the United States and the Soviet Union have been doing the double job of talking about the summit and making propaganda for themselves.

The trouble is: they get so involved with their fancy diplomatic footwork and their hair-splitting that the people of the world can't keep it clear in their heads. The result is the people give up trying to figure who sounds better or who's ahead.

Here's a picture of what's been going on since December:

Bulganin wrote four letters to Eisenhower; Eisenhower replied with three and is probably preparing another; Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have talked about the summit at their news conferences; Bulganin and Communist party boss Khrushchev have talked about it in the Soviet Union; the Soviets have sent this country an aide-memoire, which is fancy for a note; this country has sent the Soviets an aide-memoire; and yesterday the Soviets fired back with another note.

Thousands and thousands of words have been written or said. Meanwhile, since all this involves propaganda beamed at the whole world, each country hopes it's getting the better of it.

This writer often wonders just how much the man in the street, here or anywhere, can possibly remember who said what, or even what's been said, by this time.

I have a complete file on the letters, the news conferences, the speeches, the aide-memoires. But every time a new one comes along I have to root in the files on what happened before to be sure I'm not missing a new point.

This got to be such a dizzy chore that I made a kind of chart, briefly listing the points made by Eisenhower, the points made by Bulganin, what each proposed and each rejected, not to mention what Dulles and Khrushchev and the aides-memoires said.

Even then, each new installment means rooting back into the files and revising the chart.

So I wonder just how much that man in the street, who has no reason to keep a file, can possibly remember or, by this time, want to remember.

Last night the latest Soviet note was handed to the American ambassador in Moscow and the Moscow radio promptly began broadcasting a summary of its contents.

This was in reply to the American note of March 6, which turned down the kind of preparations suggested by the Soviets for a summit meeting and asked if the Soviets really wanted a worthwhile meeting or just a spectacle.

Last night, after 18 days of thinking it over, the Soviets complained this country was trying to mess things up. That's what it said, in brief. That was one more note for the files and a bunch of new words that got lost in people's heads.

Your Child's Health

Cure Of Highly Contagious Scalp Ringworm Not Easy

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

"My grandson," a reader says, "has ringworm in his scalp." She requests a discussion of this subject and asks about the chances of cure.

To that question, I can say that the chances of complete cure are good, but it will be troublesome and perhaps time consuming.

Outbreaks of scalp ringworms are fairly common and are confined largely to youngsters. Many communities have suffered from such outbreaks, but they do differ in several respects from the more common ringworm or athlete's foot.

If typical, ringworm of the scalp tends to produce scaly patches on the back or sides of the head. The hair on these patches appear dull in color and is often broken off near the roots. Often the hair falls out entirely in irregular spots.

Special equipment is needed for an accurate diagnosis. A light which consists of ultraviolet rays filtered through a special type of glass is necessary and examination must be carried out in a darkened room. The infected hair usually gives a bright glow under this special light.

Other tests, such as looking at the hairs or scrapings from the scalp under the microscope, may also be desirable.

Treatment is not always easy, since many of the ointments containing chemicals which work on other kinds of fungus infections of the skin are not successful for this. X-ray treatment has been used with some success.

The most important thing to do about ringworm of the scalp is to recognize its contagious nature and to stop it from spreading.

The backs of seats in movie theaters are said to be responsible for many cases. Someone suggested that movie house furniture should be disinfected once and, afterwards, the backs protected with paper covers which could be changed fairly frequently.

Certainly in the communities where ringworm of the scalp becomes epidemic, this seems like a good idea.

It has also been suggested that children wear close-fitting caps to guard against danger of infection in public places, such as buses or subways, as well as in movie theaters.

If ringworm of the scalp does break out in a community, an attempt should be made to find all of the cases by making a survey of preschool children in families in which an older brother or sister is found infected.

Children in institutions are more likely to be exposed than children in homes. Schoolteachers and barbers, as well as parents and doctors, should be on the lookout for suspicious signs so that steps can be taken early to prevent the spread of this troublesome contagious disease.

The disease appears comparatively easy to prevent, but often poses some difficult problems in effective treatment.

'Blues' Composer Ill

NEW YORK (AP)—Jazz composer W. C. Handy was in critical condition today at Sydenham Hospital. Physicians reported he went into a coma late last night.

The 84-year-old blind Negro composer of "The St. Louis Blues," among other jazz classics, was taken to the hospital Sunday night from his Yonkers, N.Y., home. He was suffering from bronchial pneumonia. Doctors said he developed a uremic condition.

Handy suffered a stroke about three years ago and, with rare exceptions, had been confined to his suburban home since. His wife Irma said he had hoped to fly to St. Louis April 7 for the premiere of the movie "St. Louis Blues," the story of his life.

Wings Are Clipped

Modern Republicanism Has Its Flight Retarded

By JOSEPH A. DEAR

Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — What has become of Modern Republicanism?

Ever so long ago, back in 1952, the "modern" wing of the GOP thought it was in. The "moderns" put Ike over at the nominating convention. They welcomed Ike's Morningside Heights conference with the late Senator Bob Taft. Its outcome assured cooperation within the party, and made Ike's victory a near certainty.

After victory, modern Republicans were slighted, and today they are indeed a frustrated group. They have never been able to establish satisfactory lines of communication with the President. They are increasingly aware that control of the party is again in the hands of men whose philosophy is similar to that of Hoover. To illustrate:

1. The McClellan committee, a bi-partisan group composed of four Democrats and four Republicans, made a splendid name exposing labor union corruption. But now the committee is bogged down in its investigation of the bitter strike of the UAW against the Kohler Company. Neither company nor union can escape blame. But the intent of the Republicans, who are insisting that hearings continue, is to "get" Walter Reuther.

Reuther is many things. He may end by launching a true "labor" party, though he denies any such intention. But he is not the type who is motivated by the desire to amass money or the desire to live in the grand style. As to that, there is virtually unanimous agreement.

The entire direction of the McClellan committee's effort has been changed. Instead of investigating corruption, the committee now is concerned with philosophy.

That was the concern of the Republican party during the Roosevelt-Truman years. Modern Republicans know this concern rarely led to victories then, and doubt that it will now.

Modern Republicans think the issue of union corruption might pay off, for the working man does not want to be victimized. But the conservatives are in control. So Senators Goldwater (Arizona) and Mundt (South Dakota), with the backing of the Republican senatorial leadership, are having their own way on the committee.

2. The "moderns" are especially alarmed by the recession. The last "big" depression swept the Republican party from power. The modern wing of the GOP is convinced the mere threat of another depression could do that again. That's why modern Republicans want the Administration to respond with vigor when there is an economic downturn.

But what has happened? Hoover reissues this year the speech he delivered at Valley Forge 27 years ago. And thereupon Ike echoes him in an off-the-cuff speech in Washington.

While the Administration hesitates, Senate Democrats seize the initiative in planning anti-recession measures. In fact, Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the majority leader, even beat the Administration to the punch in announcing a new Pentagon program for relieving distressed areas. In short, thanks to Johnson, the Democrats got the credit for an Administration program.

Republicans of the modern wing, including Senator Cliff Case (New Jersey), introduced a bill which would extend unemployment compensation payments through the remainder of the year. The government would foot the bill.

But the Administration unveiled a plan which would extend payments for 13 weeks only. And the federal payments would be in the nature of "loans" to the states. Ike's "team" never was in touch with the modern Republicans on this issue.

3. In fact, the modern wing has no representation at the White House.

Ike deals only with the Republican "leadership" on the Hill, and it is conservative. Modern Republicans don't object to the formal arrangements, but figure they should be consulted on some basis.

The modern wing is inclined to blame Ike's anxiety to accommodate the conservatives for its troubles. The White House Capitol Hill liaison man is Jack Martin, who was once administrative assistant to Senator Taft. Martin has no time for modern Republicans.

The little youngster who had been hearing about Jesus each week at the nursery of the Sunday School had to stay home one Sunday for some reason and his mother turned on the radio to hear the sermon.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

The spiritual significance of Lent is centered around the sacrifice of Christ. During this time we emphasize self-sacrifice in order to partake in a small way of the experience of the Master. If this experience is to be important we must do more than merely deprive ourselves of candy or entertainment.

To really feel even a portion of Christ's sacrifice, we should have to go without food and sleep while working long hours. This work would have to be done under the pressure of physical fatigue, mental stress and emotional turmoil. We could not bear even a portion of His strain.

We cannot begin to minister as Christ was able to do. Yet we can serve others to the limits of our human abilities. We can do our daily tasks sincerely and honestly. We can utilize our other waking moments in prayer and in easing the burdens of neighbors while we constantly bear witness for our Saviour.

liam Faulkner, sang "What Can the Matter Be", "The Hunter and the Rabbit" and "The Old Gray Mare". Larry Cramer played a violin solo accompanied by Mrs. Truman Cramer. Arlene Mulberry and her father, Ernest Mulberry sang "You Are the Best" and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling".

A piano duet, "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" was played by Billy Hopkins and his mother, Mrs. William Hopkins. A number presented in pantomime by Billy Hopkins, using the "Dragon" theme provided an amusing change of pace in the program. "Sugar Time" was sung by the Roy sisters, Christina and Eva Maria. Lynn Hudson and his mother, Mrs. E. O. Hudson, closed the program with a piano duet. Addison Taylor was the program chairman, assisted by Mrs. Walter Schmidle.

"Children Still Come First" was the devotion poem, given by Mrs. C. H. Cook, followed with a prayer. Courtesy Week will be observed at Mark Twain during March 24-26. The last PTA meeting of the year will be held April 18. It will include installation of officers, open house and the spring concert.

A social hour followed. A spring-like atmosphere was created by the attractive arrangement of cut flowers and green tapers centering the refreshment table. The social chairman, Mrs. William Hopkins, and PTA officers, served.

Reese Makes Bid For Shortstop Post

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Who's the likely to open at shortstop for the Los Angeles Dodgers? Pee Wee Reese, that's who! Any questions? The veteran, 39-year-old Dodger captain—supposedly too old to cut the mustard any more—is making another belated bid for the shortstop berth.

For years now, Reese has been verbally displaced from his infield post, benched or shifted to another position, to make room for a younger, more agile, more versatile player from the farm system.

But he has continually kept his challengers down on the farm.

This season, Don Zimmer and Bob Lillis, a Paul candidate who hit .259 at St. Paul last year and a fine gloveman, are slated to battle it out, Reese was relegated to either third base or a utility role. Reese, who first came up to the Dodgers in 1940, pulled into contention with a pair of fine performances against the New York Yankees and impressed Manager Walter Alston.

"With Randy Jackson and Dick Gray playing so well at third," the Dodger skipper said, "I might play Pee Wee at shortstop. I wouldn't want to use him continually but we might get some good results by using him at intervals."

The race horse Bold Ruler is known around track barns by the nickname "Bo-Bo."

Boxer Gene (Ace) Armstrong's real first name is Genorace.

Gonzales Wonders 'What Hit Me?'

NEW YORK (AP)—"What hit me?" That was what Tex Gonzalez asked today. Eddie Andrews had a ready answer.

"He led and I went over him and clipped him."

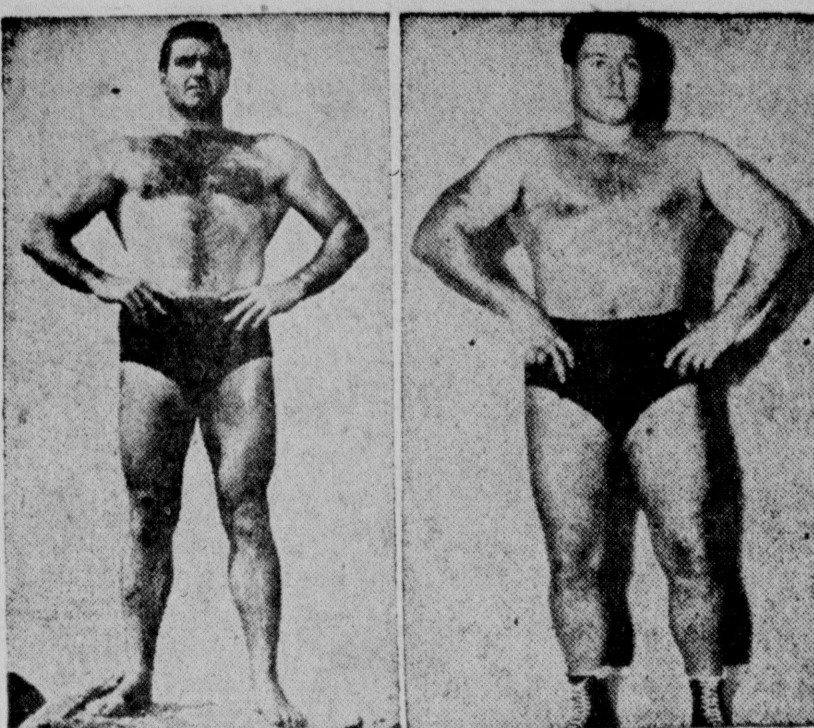

That was the story, in brief, of last night's feature at St. Nicholas Arena between Andrews, from Lowell, Mass., and Gonzalez, from South Orange, N.J.

Gonzalez was the favorite. But he never really got his gloves off the floor.

As one ringsider put it: "Andrews came out of his corner like he was in the gym—all out. Gonzalez didn't seem to know what to do."

The end came at 1:41 of the first round of the scheduled 10. Andrews clipped Gonzalez with a right to the head and the latter Gonzalez made a try to get up when the count came to "nine."

Andrews, who never has fought outside of the New England area, is in for another bout at St. Nick's. Andrews weighed 158½, Gonzalez 159.

DON CURTIS

DANNY O'SHOCKER

TWO OF NINE TONIGHT—Don Curtis and Danny O'Shocker, will be two of nine wrestlers who will participate in the championship matches tonight at the National Guard Armory. It is an elimination tournament which will see the finish to the end of eight with the ninth to be declared the Missouri Champ.

Top Matmen Seek State Title Tonight

The eyes of the wrestling world will be on Sedalia tonight when nine of the Nation's outstanding matmen compete in an elimination wrestling tournament to decide the Missouri State Championship.

Among the men competing in the eight bout tournament are four top flight wrestlers who already hold other state titles. Don Curtis presently holds the Kansas State Title, Bob Geigel the Texas State Championship, and Larry Hamilton, the New York State Title. Ronnie Etchison presently holds the heavyweight belt in Minnesota and other men on the card, like Otto Von Krupp, holds various titles in Europe and other places.

Promoters from all over the midwest are heading for Sedalia to witness this championship tourney, since it will be to their advantage to sign contracts for future appearances of the winner. A huge trophy emblematic of the State Title will be presented to the winner by an official of the State Athletic Commission.

The nine men competing in the championship elimination include such outstanding names as Larry Hamilton, Don Curtis, Lee Henning, Bob Geigel, Otto von Krupp, Rip Hawk, Danny O'Shocker, Ronnie Etchison and Sonny Myers. A drawing will be held preceding the matches pairing the men in the first four bouts. In the case of a draw, judges selected from the audience will decide which man has won on points.

Former World Champion Bobby Bruns will act as referee for the matches and the first match will start at 8:15 p. m. Fans are advised to obtain their choice of seats as soon as possible since there has been a brisk advance sale on all seats.

Legion Junior League Baseball Finals Set

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Finals of the American Legion junior baseball league will be held here Aug. 16-17.

Bob Vilm, chairman of the American Legion junior baseball committee, announced the date and site for the finals yesterday. The Western state zone playoff is to be held at Independence, and the Eastern zone playoff at Baldwin, Mo., on Aug. 8-10.

The Missouri champion will play in the regional playoff at Hobart, Okla., against winners from Kansas, Iowa and Oklahoma.

Baylor May Join Pro Cage Ranks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Elgin Baylor, Seattle's sizzling shooter, may pass up a final year of college basketball to join the professional ranks.

The West Coast All America said he hasn't made up his mind but will announce his decision by next Monday.

He said he is considering joining the pros because of "personal reasons." He declined to elaborate. The 22-year-old junior is here on a visit to his parents.

Athletics May Open With 14 Pitchers

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Manager Harry Craft of the Kansas City Athletics plans to open the season with 14 pitchers, and that means three candidates will go to the minor leagues.

At the moment, bonus boy Dave Hill appears certain to go out on option. Observers believe the other two will come from among John Tsitouris, Harry Taylor, Arnold Portocarrero, Ray Herbert, Carl Duser, Walt Craddock, Glenn Cox and Wally Burnette.

Craft plans to start Duke Maas against the Detroit Tigers today. The A's game with Detroit yesterday was rained out.

Lake Charles Team May Be Dark Horse In National AAU Play

DENVER (AP)—Lanky Bill Reigel and his Lake Charles, La., teammates found themselves cast in the role of darkhorse today in the 1958 National AAU basketball tournament.

With Reigel's soft, left-handed push shots accounting for 25 points, the Louisianans turned in the most impressive performance in last night's opening session by mauling Milwaukee 77-58.

Reigel, the nation's leading college scorer two years ago as a McNeese State College star, came up with the finest individual performance of the first three games.

In other games, Los Angeles pulled itself together after an erratic first half and routed Cincinnati 75-56, and Brownstown, surged ahead in the second half for a 79-73 triumph over Amarillo, Tex.

Today's pairings (first round) 3 p.m.—Kansas City vs. Philadelphia.

4:30 p.m.—Milford, Conn. vs. U. S. Marines.

7:30 p.m.—San Francisco vs. Detroit.

9 p.m.—Cedar Rapids, Iowa, vs. Salt Lake City.

10:30 p.m.—U.S. Navy vs. Fort Collins, Colo.

Barnett Heads List Of NAIA Cage Team

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Dick Barnett of the champion Tennessee A. and I University Tigers, heads the list of stars on the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics All-America basketball team announced today.

Barnett fired the Tennessee team to the NAIA tournament championship earlier this month. He was voted the outstanding player in the 32-team tournament.

Others on the first team are Bernie Swain, Texas Southern University; Al Pursell, Coe College; John Butcher, Pikeville (Ky.) College, and Dick Berner, Rollins College (Fla.).

Ronnie Kennett, Arkansas Tech, Honorable mention included: Robert McGhee, Ottawa (Kan.) University; George Pruitt, Lincoln (Mo.) University.

The oldest and youngest players on the Cincinnati Redlegs roster are lefthanded pitchers from California. Dave Skagstad, 18, is from Compton and Bill Wight, 35, calls Healdsburg home.

Sievers Still Immobilized By Injuries

By MIKE RATHET The Associated Press

Washington's Roy Sievers, the American League's home run and RBI king, is still immobilized.

Sievers, who rapped 42 homers and knocked in 114 runs last season, was hit in the leg by a batted ball March 12, suffering a bruise. He played in three games, wound up pulling a muscle and has been idle since.

The Washington slugger admits the leg still hurts. Although he has been taking a regular turn in the batting cage, he has been cautioned by trainer George Lentz not to risk playing for another three or four days.

With Washington idled by rain yesterday, Senators' Manager Cookie Lavagetto had time for thought and used it to realign his outfield.

Lavagetto, who even has used third baseman Harmon Killebrew as a fly chaser, said Sievers will take over in left field when he returns. Rookie Albie Pearson has virtually clinched center field and Jim Lemon will hold down right backed by rookie Neil Chrisley.

Two games escaped the weather.

Chicago's Cubs laced Cleveland pitching for a 13-8 victory and Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia 4-3.

Cub shortstop Ernie Banks drove in five runs with a homer, his seventh this spring, and a pair of doubles. Sixteen men batted around in the first inning as Chicago stormed to 12 runs against starter Don Mossi and successors.

Don Schaeffer and Hal Woodeshick.

Glenn Hobbie picked up the win, although the Indians came up with five runs against him in the sixth.

The Redlegs bounced four of their nine hits in the sixth inning and tallied three times for the victory. Pitcher Charley Rabe singled home two runs and Buddy Gilbert singled to knock in the final run. The Phillies got home runs from rookies Pancho Herrera and Chuck Essegian.

San Francisco's Giants sold infielder Foster Castleman to the Baltimore Orioles. The 27-year-old Castleman went for "something in excess of the $20,000 waiver price."

Clark May Be First

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Pitcher Phil Clark, trying out for the St. Louis Cardinals, may be the first newcomer to make the Red Bird squad.

Manager Fred Hutchinson says the 6-3, 185-pound former Houston player, just about has it made.

Bing Devine, the Red Bird general manager, described Clark as "a cold customer . . . the type you want for a reliever."

Last season Clark had a 16-6 record with a 1.83 earned run record.

Dan Hodge Wins 'Gloves' Crown In Second Round

NEW YORK (AP)—Dan Hodge, the Olympic wrestler turned boxer, today had both the National Golden Gloves heavyweight championship and a problem: whether to turn pro or aim for an unprecedented boxing-wrestling double in the 1960 Olympics.

"Gosh, I don't know what I'm going to do," said the 25-year-old Wichita, Kan., strongman after he stopped Washington's Charley Hood in 2:23 of the second round of a sensational battle for the Gloves' crown at Madison Square Garden last night. His Chicago-Western team, however, lost to the New York-Eastern squad, 12-4.

Some expert observers said the ruggedly handsome athlete with a neat set of cauliflower ears was a better boxing prospect right now than Rocky Marciano was at the same stage of his career. Rocky, the retired heavyweight champion, turned pro when he was nearly 25.

"I'll take two or three weeks, maybe longer, to think it over," said Hodge. "I know I've got a lot to learn. I like boxing. It's fun. I like wrestling, too. Maybe I might try for the Olympics in both boxing and wrestling if the schedule permits it."

A National AAU wrestling champion and a member of the 1952 and 1956 Olympic mat squads, Hodge climaxed a meteoric, unbeaten sixth months campaign in boxing with his Golden Gloves triumph. He has won 17 fights, 12 of them by kayos.

His 17th was a stirring, come-from-behind affair. Dropped in the first round and rocked several times, the 6-1½, 193-pounder rallied to floor Hood, a 22-year-old, 6-1, 185-pounder, twice in the second round to win on a technical knockout.

Father of two, Hodge works for an oil company in Wichita.

Basilio Risks Title Tonight In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—After a week of rather unusual prefight shenanigans, crowding Carmen Basilio risks his middleweight title against aging but still artistic Sugar Ray Robinson tonight in Chicago Stadium.

The rematch, six months after the 30-year-old Basilio gained a split 15-round decision over Robinson in New York, will be on closed circuit television in 38 states with the Chicago area blacked out and on radio nationally (CBS) with Chicago cut in on the broadcast.

Fight time is 11 p.m., EST.

Robinson, 37, will be attempting to regain the 160-pound crown for the fourth time. He never has been beaten twice by the same fighter. Whereas the Harlem Dandy has found Chicago Stadium to his liking in the past, Basilio has found it a jinx.

Robinson first won the title in the big West Side arena, successfully defended it there and twice recaptured it there.

Basilio lost to Chuck Davey, Billy Graham and Johnny Saxton in the only fights he has had in Chicago and has claimed unfair decisions in all but the Graham bout.

Robinson's record: 140 wins, 6 defeats, 2 draws. He won 91 of his fights by knockouts.

Basilio's record: won 52; lost 7; 7 draws, 25 wins by knockouts.

The gate is expected to be about $400,000. TV proceeds will be about $300,000 and radio $30,000. Basilio and Robinson will each receive 30 per cent slices of everything.

The champion remained a solid 8-5 betting choice.

Dr. John Dorman has been head football coach at Upper Iowa University for 50 years. He's the dean of active college football coaches.

Combination Worries All US Retailers

NEW YORK (AP) — Recession talk, wintry weather, an earlier Easter than last year. . . . These are some of the things worrying U.S. retailers as the 1958 Easter shopping season enters the windup phase.

An Associated Press survey of Easter shopping trends in 19 major cities gave this picture: Except in industrial areas where employment is off sharply, merchants hope to do about as well as last year. But they're counting heavily on an assist from the weather man.

"There's nothing wrong with Easter business," says a New York department store official, "that 10 days of sunshine couldn't cure."

Retailer sentiment across the country ranges from buoyant optimism in some Southern and Eastern cities to the deepest gloom in Middle and Far Western manufacturing centers where large numbers of factory workers have been laid off.

Some merchants say the earlier Easter date (April 6 this year vs. April 21 in 1957) is hurting sales. Others say it makes no difference.

"Easter business looks good," states William Tobey, vice president of Abraham & Straus, big Brooklyn, N.Y., department store. "Recession talk doesn't seem to have hurt sales. The determining factor will be the weather."

"Sales have been good and traffic heavy," asserts Julian N. Trivers, vice president of Davison's, Atlanta. "We're agreeably surprised."

"We don't feel that people are sold on this recession business," declares a retailer in Dallas. A Columbus, Ga., merchant states: "We haven't felt any recession here."

This rosy attitude is far from universal, however. Asked how things are going, a Los Angeles store executive scoffs derisively: "What pre-Easter business?"

Store managers in Columbus, Ohio, say business is hurting. Women are buying Easter bonnets but skimping on coats and suits. Children's apparel is about the only category that's selling well, the kids having outgrown last year's Easter outfits. Explains one Columbus retailer: "The darlings do grow, you know — bless their vitamin-filled little hides."

Right now, sales are trailing 1957 in Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Detroit, Philadelphia and Miami. Mostly it's the weather that gets the blame.

Almost everywhere shoppers have a sharp eye out for bargains. The free-wheeling spender of recent years seems to have vanished from the retail scene.

PARKING PROBLEM SOLVED—The horse and buggy age isn't over, at least not in Middlefield, Ohio, where most of Geauga County's Amishmen trot in daily to do their shopping. Spurning automobiles or other modern means of transportation, the Amishmen still use their horses and buggies. So White Bros. market came up with this neat solution: a reserved parking area solely for the use of Dobbin and his master.

Tipoff Shows Red Military Arms Reliable

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor says the tipoff to Soviet wealth in military equipment is that the U.S.S.R. now is giving some of its best war goods to its European satellites.

The Army chief of staff, in a censored testimony released by an Armed Services subcommittee, said for a long time the Soviets "apparently held back their best equipment out of sight."

"The equipment we saw in Germany was not their best," he added. "And only recently have we seen indications of their bringing forward their best."

"But the most significant indication of their richness in equipment is the fact that they are giving excellent, post-World War II equipment to their satellites."

Taylor said he does not know whether this includes missile weapons.

He said the Soviets have "much more mechanized equipment and much more armor, relatively speaking, in their forces than we have."

Among the satellites, Taylor said, U.S. officers have the impression that the Czech forces "are quite good . . . and probably more reliable from the Soviet point of view than the Poles, where the Soviets have real problems."

He said the Soviets apparently look on the East Germans as "a very doubtful ally" and are afraid to put weapons into their hands in any numbers.

Two Passengers Dead In Helicopter Blast

DETROIT (AP) — A helicopter exploded in the air over suburban Center Line yesterday, killing the two passengers and the pilot. Cause of the explosion was unknown.

The wreckage of the craft plunged to the ground near a cement company. There were no other reported injuries.

The victims were Louis A. Garo, 28, and James Kennedy, 31, the pilot.

Elvis Presley Begins Stint In the Army

FT. CHAFFEE, Ark. (AP) — Pvt. Elvis Presley, idol of America's rock 'n' roll fans, and 21 other recruits arrived here in a blaze of publicity last night.

Presley's scheduled today calls for five hours of aptitude tests, a classification interview and several lectures. Presley will make the rounds in the sports jacket and slacks he wore to camp. He won't get a uniform until tomorrow.

The 23-year-old singer, whose gross income last year was almost a million dollars, will get the $7 salary advance provided to tide over recruits until payday.

Presley and the others in his group rolled in from Memphis aboard a chartered bus shortly before midnight. He was greeted by a shouting crowd of newsmen, photographers and civilian fans.

"We never had anything like this before," commented a reception center officer as camera flashbulbs winked and teen-age girls among the 100-odd civilians screamed a welcome to the unruffled Presley.

The celebrated draftee, who had charge of his contingent, went immediately into a reception room, where a sergeant called the roll above a din of newsmen.

Presley willingly posed for pictures in the reception room, but he declined to give autographs while he was in ranks.

The recruits were taken to a supply building where blankets, sheets and pillows were issued. Then Cpl. John D. Smith of North Little Rock, Ark., steered them to a nearby barracks.

Photographers and reporters followed Presley into the barracks. Smith showed the newcomers how to make up a bed GI style. As Presley worked on his bed, someone asked if he ever made one before. He smilingly said he had not.

At 12:30 a.m. about an hour after the arrival, Presley and his comrades turned in.

Presley was sworn in at Memphis Monday. After three days of processing here, the Army will decide where he will take his eight-week basic training.

Never Too Old

EMPORIA, Kan. (AP) — Mrs. Lance Hill, wife of an Emporia oil man, was reading the 20-year-old column in the Emporia Gazette.

An item noted that her son Robert, then a year old, was one of many Emporia children ill with the measles.

While she was reminiscing, in walked Robert — now 21 and a student at the University of Kansas.

He had been sent home with the measles.

Plan May Halt Recession

STURGIS, Mich. (AP) — A grass roots fight to lick the recession without waiting for government help is picking up steam in this southwestern Michigan community.

It's called a "Help Your Neighbor" program. The folks here are determined to start a nationwide avalanche of buying which will wipe out current business gloom.

The program in this city of 10,000 is the brainchild of Harold S. Pringle, general manager of the daily Sturgis Journal. Pringle also is chairman of the Industrial Committee of the Sturgis Chamber of Commerce.

Pringle's project began March 8. It was born with the blessing of city fathers and the Journal's editor and publisher, Mark P. Haines.

"What we hope to do is to start a chain reaction in buying that will extend over the nation and create an immediate demand for products of all kinds," Haines said. "Sturgis cannot accomplish this alone—it can only set an example which, if followed, will increase business activity and start a new period of full employment and prosperity."

"The idea is for a prospective purchaser to anticipate his needs, things that he had planned to buy next year or perhaps even two or three years hence, and buy them now."

To stimulate spending here Haines offered a full-page advertisement free to each of 32 Sturgis industries which employ 10 or more workers. Accompanying each ad is a news story telling the history, operations and products of the concern.

The ads and stories were aimed at spurring residents to buy products made in Sturgis and those made elsewhere which use materials processed here. So far some 12 ads have been run.

"If the people go out and buy the things they say they are going to, there is no question about the outcome," Pringle said.

Millie Perkins Progressing, Stevens Says

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Time for a progress report on young Millie Perkins, the New Jersey girl who is playing Anne Frank.

Her progress is good, according to George Stevens, who picked Millie and is directing her in "The Diary of Anne Frank."

After three weeks of shooting, he reports: "She is turning out beautifully—even better than I had hoped for. Millie is kind of a slow starter; she's a quiet girl who doesn't let out too much at first. But then she starts to unfold—like an artichoke. And what you see underneath is very good indeed."

He said he felt no qualms about putting a totally inexperienced girl in such an important role.

"Every woman is an actress. The question is how to get them to loosen up and perform," he said. Getting Millie to loosen up in an interview is also a problem, since she is admittedly shy.

"I was terrified the first day of shooting," she said. "I thought I would never get through it. But Mr. Stevens did a very nice thing. He had us rehearse the whole day—didn't shoot a thing. That helped me overcome my nerves."

Until recently, Millie as a New York model, posing for teen-age fashions and magazine covers. She finds acting easier.

"I don't mean acting comes easily to me," she explained, "but I was surprised to find it less physically tiring than modeling."

"She still isn't sure she wants to be an actress."

"I never had the desire," she said. "I never acted in school or anything. I'm not even sure I want to pursue an acting career after this picture is over. I suppose I will decide then."

It looks as if her decision has been made for her. The studio has her under exclusive contract. "Anne Frank" will make her an international star, and there's a slight chance that she'll be allowed to seek other pursuits.

Weather Pattern Shows Only Minor Changes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The nation's weather pattern showed only minor changes today, with more precipitation in wide areas of the Western and Eastern sections of the country.

A storm centered over the Southeastern part of the country continued to bring rain from the middle Mississippi Valley and Arkansas eastward across most of the South and Middle Atlantic States.

Snow mixed with rain fell along the northern border of the storm belt and in parts of the Appalachians. About an inch of new snow was reported in parts of the Virginias.

The wet weather was expected to extend into the upper Ohio Valley and lower Great Lakes region, most of the South and Middle Atlantic states and northward into southern New England. Snow mixed with rain was forecast in northern parts of the wet belt.

Kohler Probe May Bring Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) of the Senate Rackets Committee said today he believes legislation will be proposed as the outgrowth of its probing into the Kohler Co. strike.

"I feel legislation will be considered in respect to mass picketing, violence and secondary boycotts," the chairman said.

He indicated that the committee later this week will wind up its current hearing into the strike called by the United Auto Workers at the Kohler, Wis. plant. The hearing is now in its fifth week.

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, said the committee has only a few more witnesses to hear and hopes to call Herbert Kohler, head of the Kohler firm, and UAW President Walter Reuther tomorrow.

Reuther, in a telegram to Kohler, formally proposed arbitration of the strike by Walter Kohler Jr., former governor of Wisconsin and now president of the Vollrath Co. at Sheboygan, Wis.

There was no immediate comment either from the Kohler president or from the former governor, who once held stock in the Kohler Co. and is the son of a former company president.

The strike was called April 5, 1954. The Kohler plant was shut down for about two months but has operated since with nonstriking and new employees. A company attorney, Lucius P. Chase, said the company now is operating normally and has made a profit each year despite union boycott efforts.

Lyman C. Conger, another Kohler attorney, said the firm will not write a new labor contract with the UAW until it is shown the UAW represents a majority of workers at the plant. Conger contends the UAW does not represent a majority.

Conger said the company has won the strike and survived the boycott instituted by the union in 1954, but still is willing to negotiate a final settlement of the strike.

Shrine Potentate Explains Aid for Crippled Children

William J. Tobler, Illustrious Potentate of Ararat Shrine Temple, Kansas City, was the speaker at the dinner meeting of the Sedalia Shrine Club held Saturday night at Wesley Methodist Church.

The illustrious potentate made two presentations during the evening. He presented the Crown of Honor Jewel to B. E. Heacock of the Sedalia Shrine Club for his services to the Ararat Temple. Heacock is the first man in the Sedalia Shrine Club to receive this jewel which must be earned by service and requires 500 points.

The other presentation was the gavel made to the president of the Sedalia Shrine Club, Paul Bidstrup.

In his talk, the Illustrious Potentate told of the Shrine Hospitals for Crippled Children, giving a report of those hospitals to the period ending July 31, 1956. He stated the 1957 report was not yet in, but the amount of services would be greater, of course.

The first Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children was established Sept. 16, 1922, at Shreveport, La. Tobler said. Several years prior to that, they argued pro and con on the establishment of such a hospital. Today there are 17 Shrine Hospitals for Crippled Children, 13 in the United States, two in Canada, one in Hawaii and one in Mexico at an investment of 12 million dollars.

During that time since 1922 there have been 350,000 children cured or helped. The children eligible must be under 14 years of age, and their parents unable to pay for the costly treatments they receive in the hospitals. The race or religion of the child makes no difference.

The average stay in the hospital is 90 days, he continued. The time in the hospital has been reduced because the doctors and staff find they can do so much more with out-patients, and transportation is now better. There are now two clinic days, Wednesdays and Fridays, he said, instead of one. Children are admitted by any Shrine or Shrine Club making application, properly filled out, for a child. There are 1,184 on the waiting list at the present time. The operation of the hospitals cost five million dollars, with the average cost per patient a little less than $1,000.

The Illustrious Potentate went on to explain that part of the Shrine dues goes to these hospitals. Other sources are endowment funds, permanent hospital membership, voluntary life memberships, wills and bequests, and this money is invested by the board of trustees, with only the income spent, the money remaining in a permanent fund. There are gifts from Shriners and non-Shriners, he said, and contributions from activities at the Temple geared to raise money for use at the Shrine hospital in St. Louis which is in this jurisdiction. If seeking a reason to be a Shriner, Tobler said, what more could there be than the support of these hospitals?

Bob Allen, High Priest and Prophet of the Divan, told of one of the activities to make money for the hospital, the East-West basketball game held Sunday, March 23. The game had, of course, not been played when Allen talked on it, but the teams are composed of all-star basketball players, seniors picked from universities over the country. The city. All proceeds beyond the coaches and from Temple University and from Kansas University expenses will go to the Shrine Hospitals and not a cent will remain at Ararat Temple, Allen said.

Members of the Divan making short talks were: Fred Stein, Past Illustrious Potentate; Ed Bittner, Captain of the Guard; Cass Browning, Marshal; and E. R. Geagan, Guide.

The meeting was presided over by the president of the Sedalia Shrine Club, Paul Bidstrup, with invocation by Dr. F. O. Murphy. Group singing was led by Fred Brink, with Mrs. Nellie Monegan Bradley at the piano.

Howard Gwinn was program chairman for the evening.

A magic act, filled with humor and real entertainment, was presented by Claude Enslow and his wife, Dorothy, of Kansas City. Among the many clever acts was the guillotine where Shriners and their wives thought they were seeing the secretary of the Sedalia Shrine Club, Floyd Knerl, being beheaded. Another act was the disappearing canary, cage and all. Attending from Kansas City, also, were Mrs. William J. Tobler, Mrs. Bob Allen, the former Helen Rose Shaffer of Sedalia, Mrs. E. R. Geagan, Mrs. Ed Bittner and Mrs. Cass Browning.

Churchill Reported 'Very Well Indeed'

ROQUEBRUNE, France (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill today was reported "very well indeed." His secretary said a general statement on the condition of Britain's 83-year-old former Prime Minister will be issued this afternoon.

The secretary, Anthony Montague Browne, declined to say whether Churchill would be able to make his scheduled April trip to Washington. It is generally assumed he won't, but there has never been any official word that the trip has been canceled.

Drama Class Gives Program At Assembly

By BILL HEISS

The junior high enjoyed an assembly last Wednesday morning presented by the dramatics department headed by Mr. Blair. They presented a comedy in one act entitled "Half Paint Windom Rides West" with the following persons in the play—Marilyn Goldman, Charlotte Wolff, Peggy Welch, Doris Cannon, Kay Vannatta, Donna Briggs, Gordon Anthony, Myrna Balch, Carolyn Thomas, Iva Shoemaker, Betty Phillips, Pat Parker, Carolyn Nave, Bonnie Morris, Donna Lynn and Beverly Long.

The Future Homemakers held their regular meeting recently. The sponsor, Mrs. Mary Maddox, attended the meeting. At this meeting a report was given to the group by Delta Teine on her trip to the University of Missouri's Career Day. Delta told of visiting the girls' dormitories and a co-operative home, Campbell-Harrison House. A style show was also given while Delta was at Career Day. Following Delta's talk, there was a discussion about going to college in the home economics field. The meeting was then adjourned by Norma Paine, president.

On March 17 the Future Nurses held their regular meeting which was opened by Carol Hyatt, president. Mrs. Campbell gave a "gym program" which is a safety program on baby-sitting. On March 29 the Future Nurses are to go to the Crippled Children's Center to color Easter eggs for the children. On April 29 the group is going to the University Hospital at Columbia for the day. At the meeting there was also a panel discussion by Kay Burke, Karen Schlosser and Linda Dickerson on babysitting at bedtime, playtime and mealtime.

One of the most unusual dances of the year is the Smo-Shuffle Dance which was held last Friday night in the Smith-Cotton Cafeteria and was originated by Dick Sklar. This in effect was a backward dance with the girls inviting the boys and also the girls picked up the boys and paid for all refreshments.

beheaded. Another act was the disappearing canary, cage and all. Attending from Kansas City, also, were Mrs. William J. Tobler, Mrs. Bob Allen, the former Helen Rose Shaffer of Sedalia, Mrs. E. R. Geagan, Mrs. Ed Bittner and Mrs. Cass Browning.

'Hall of Fame' Brings Faith To TV Screen

NEW YORK (AP) — A drama of religious faith came to the home screen last night when NBC-TV's Hall of Fame presented Julie Harris and Christopher Plummer in "Little Moon of Alban" by James Costigan.

Superbly acted and produced, "Little Moon of Alban" concerned a religious young woman, played by Miss Harris, whose faith was badly shaken by the killing of her lover in the Irish Rebellion of 40 years ago.

As a devout Roman Catholic, she sought to restore her faith by joining the Daughters of Charity, a religious order whose members do not take vows as nuns but each year renew their wish to work with those in need of help.

While nursing in a hospital for British soldiers, the enemy who had killed her lover, her strong will saved the life of an English lieutenant, who fell in love with her. Restored to health, the lieutenant asked her to marry him. She refused, saying that she realized what it meant "to be doing God's work out of love and not out of fear."

Miss Harris gave a memorable performance as Brigid Mary, the Daughter of Charity. Plummer was excellent as the British lieutenant who loved her. There were fine performances by Barry Jones, Frank Conroy, George Peppard, and a large supporting cast under the direction of George Schaefer, who also produced the program.

"Little Moon of Alban," a technically faultless production, must have been especially moving to those of the Roman Catholic faith. It was also moving to one outside that faith, but it failed to transcend sectarianism in the tradition of the greatest religious drama.

In all respect for Costigan's excellent script, he failed to convince one viewer that Brigid Mary's life as a Sister of Charity, morally worthy though it was, resulted in a more emotionally satisfying life than it might have been as the wife of the English lieutenant. No one holds such a reservation with a Joan of Arc.

Teenagers Attack School Teacher With Softball Bat

NEW YORK (AP) — Five teenagers invaded a playground in a Bronx park yesterday and attacked a church school teacher with a softball bat.

The teacher, Arthur Santos, 36, had tried to chase the youths as he noticed them going through the pockets of eight of his pupils.

Santos, a licensed minister awaiting ordination, had taken his 35 white pupils, boys and girls aged 9 to 15, to the playground for a physical training class. The children were playing games, including softball, when five Negro youths entered the park.

When Santos noticed the older boys had lined up some of his pupils to rob them, he warned the invaders "to leave my kids alone and go away or I'd call the police," the teacher said later at a hospital.

The five went into a huddle and one pulled out a knife.

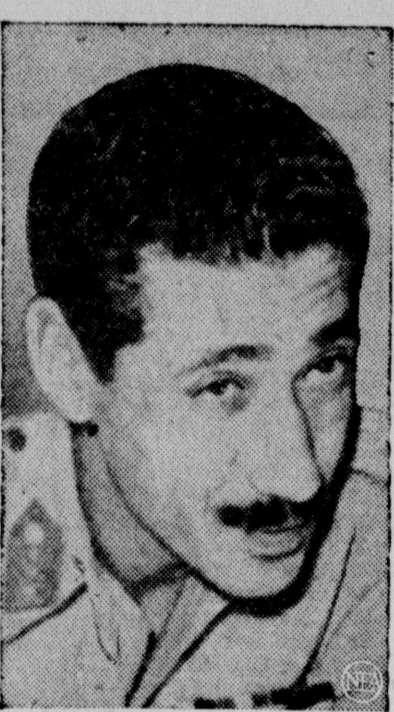

"So you'd call the cops?" the knife wielder said threateningly. "I started to run," Santos said. "They chased me out of the park and caught me. They jumped me and took my bat and beat me."

The youths took $16 from him. Eight stitches were taken in the teacher's scalp and five in a lip. In addition to body bruises he suffered a brain concussion. He was reported in fair condition.

Travel Agent Gets Term for Phony Tips

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "You are trying to get to the top too fast," the judge told Harold J. O'Brien. Then he sentenced the self-styled travel consultant to 90 days in jail for petty theft.

O'Brien, 26, was accused of accepting $18 fees each from military and reserve personnel for tips on where they could get free rides on Military Air Transport Service planes.

Witnesses testified that his tips were often erroneous and military authorities said he was not authorized to provide such information.

Judge F. Ray Bennett told O'Brien, "Just plain, ordinary work will do you a lot of good if you will undertake it—when you leave jail."

Opens Talks On Contract At GM Plants

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiators for General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers meet here today to open talks on UAW demands for a new contract covering 350,000 GM workers.

UAW President Walter Reuther and Louis G. Seaton, GM vice president in charge of personnel, will head their respective bargaining teams.

General Motors is the first of the auto industry's Big Three to face UAW negotiators this year. The union will open contract talks with Ford Motor Co. March 31 and Chrysler Corp. April 1.

Three-year pacts with the Big Three all expire around June 1.

Major UAW demands are expected to be the controversial profit-sharing plan made public by Reuther last January, a general pay increase and various fringe benefits.

Appearances today by Reuther and Seaton are regarded as token in nature. Negotiators will be headed throughout the talks by UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock and Earl R. Bramblett, GM director of labor relations.

Contract provisions covering the seniority and job classifications were expected to occupy bargain-ers in early talks.

The profit-sharing plan, which Reuther termed a prime goal of the union this year, calls for distribution to hourly rated employees of 25 per cent of all company profits over 10 per cent of net capital before taxes.

The union estimates that such a profit-sharing plan last year would have given each hourly rated employee of General Motors an extra $600.

Union officials have not specified what they will seek in a wage increase.

The average GM wage rate is $2.21, exclusive of fringe benefits, which the company estimates at 67 cents per hour.

Crop Disaster Meet Slated For April 1-3

Missouri will be represented at a national meeting in Chicago on April 1-3 on Federal All-Risk Insurance against crop disasters by F. Reed Grainger, Missouri state director, and Ronald J. Lovan, office manager.

The Missouri representatives will meet with the Manager and Directors of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation to formulate plans for expanding the service provided farmers and businessmen by this all-risk Government protection of money spent to produce crops.

"Crop disaster is our business the year around," Grainger said. "But where it strikes, it becomes the concern of many people. Our insurance policies can cushion the impact of crop catastrophe for insured farmers and the business community."

"Changes are being made aimed at providing broader protection in many counties. We hope to return from the national meeting with news that we can expand our state operations to include more farmers and crops in the years immediately ahead."

"Farmers can and should protect themselves against financial disaster resulting from crop losses," State Director Grainger said today.

Increasing numbers of farmers are safeguarding their income through Federal Crop Insurance each year. "Each disaster and crop losses strike thousands of farmers," the director said. "Of course we are always deeply concerned with such misfortune when it comes—but what we can do after losses occur, is limited unless the farmer has acted by signing a Federal Crop Insurance contract."

All-Risk Crop Insurance is available in 28 Missouri counties for 1958, covering 74 programs. Director Grainger urged farmers in these counties to apply for crop insurance before the closing date of April 30th. This is the 20th Anniversary of the basic agriculture protection program. Farmers in more than 800 counties in the United States have the opportunity to use this program of protecting investments.
